These instructions will guide you in completing your Entrance Interview, Master Promissory Note (MPN), and Disclosure Statements for your Occidental No Interest Loan or Occidental Low Interest Loan only. These requirements must be completed by the student borrowing the loan, not the parent(s).

These instructions do not apply to the Federal Direct Subsidized/Unsubsidized Loans. Instructions for completing documents for those loans are available online.

PURPOSE OF LOAN DOCUMENTS

Borrowing money to pay for college is an important responsibility. Before you take out a student loan, you must understand the basic principles of borrowing, including your rights and responsibilities. At Occidental College, this counseling is conducted online so you can focus on the important aspects of funding your education with a student loan.

Disclosure Statements provide consumers detailed information when they borrow loans from private lenders. Occidental College is the lender for your Oxy No Interest/Low Interest Loan. Disclosure statements require that you view and accept a series of forms designed by the federal government that outline the terms of the loan and the full cost of borrowing.

When you borrow money, you must make a promise to repay the money loaned to you; you do this by signing a promissory note. This note will outline the legal obligations you have for repaying this money.
